

Legal compliance - COMAH Regulations

I am pleased to enclose the following information on Legal Compliance - COMAH. Please find for your attention course syllabus and objectives

Aim and Objective

Major accidents have the potential to cause serious damage to both people and the environment, so it is essential that the risks are carefully controlled, The COMAH training course explains the requirements of the COMAH Regulations, which cover major accident hazards.

Course Duration

The course will be of one day duration

Course Syllabus

- Describes the background of COMAH and outlines the main duties imposed by the Regulation
- Provides the definition of some important terms in the Regulation
- General Duties on operators, explains the MAPP and the requirement on operators to notify the competent authority
- Safety Reports
- Emergency Plans
- Describes the information which operators must provide to the public, to the competent authority and to other establishments
- Explains the primary function of the Competent Authority

Certification

Delegates will receive an attendance certificate issued by LKHAS. All client's internal procedures including documentation can be included within the presentation.

The course will be delivered by Graham Carvlin associate to LKHAS

Please visit www.lkhealthandsafety.com for further details

Occupational Health and Safety Training and Management Consultant
Contact (01429) 282636: Mobile 07754 543767 web: lkhealthandsafety.com